Myplant & Garden 2025 bookings are off to a flying start

The build-up to Italy's leading horticultural trade exhibition is good, looking at the forward bookings.

Exhibitor bookings are looking healthy for Myplant & Garden happening at Fiera Milano Rho between 19-21 February 2025.

With less than eight months before the show's opening, 70 per cent of the floor space has now been booked.

The show organiser promise a 2025 event that "will be bigger, more complete and even richer, Myplant is a fundamental business hub capable of generating wealth for companies, the horticultural sector and the entire community."

MyPlant&Garden is an AIPH-approved International Horticultural Trade Exhibition. This year, it was jam-packed with more than 760 exhibitors taking the 50,000 square metre space of the Fiera Milano-Rho. For more information visit www.myplantgarden.com
