

Time for Myplant & Garden, at last!

As we speak, the Italian as well as quite a few major international companies in the garden and floral industries are gathering in Milan for the yearly Myplant & Garden. Finally, after two years of absence, many people are happy and relieved to be able to meet in person again at the Fiera Milano.

Lucrezia Ghione and Gian Guido Ghione with Nirp

The last edition of My Plant & Garden took place in February 20. Back then the fair welcomed over 700 exhibitors and 20.000 visitors. This year, 600+ companies signed up, the lion share consisting of Italian businesses.

The Italian horticulture industry has been hit hard by the pandemic, but recovered quickly with exports rising. Also the garden industry within the country is growing steadily.

Damien Kimbler and Samuele Burati with Richel

The fair went off for great start yesterday, Ferdinando Crespi, who is involved with organizing Myplant & Garden. "It was a very productive day: a lot of movement, people, affairs... We're happy!"

These photo's Ferdinando Crespi shared with us. As one can see, on Thursday the floor was brimming with activity.

FloralDaily is attending - stay tuned for more and of course our photo report!

Antonio Fracassi representing MPS

Antoine Groot •

Sr. Account-Productmanager bij Takii Europe B.V.

myPlantandGarden#TakiiEurope#Greenn#Hollandpaviljoen feel welcome to visit us in Hall 12

For more information
Myplant & Garden
myplantgarden.com

